The imperial examination system in its classical manifestation is historically attested to have been established in 605, during the Sui dynasty, when the emperor could call for tests to be administered. In the following Tang dynasty, tests were used on a small scale until the examination system was extensively expanded during the reign of Wu Zetian: the impact of Wu's use of the testing system ...

Breast self-examination (BSE) is a screening method used in an attempt to detect early breast cancer. The method involves the woman herself looking at and feeling each breast for possible lumps, distortions or swelling. BSE was once promoted heavily as a means of finding cancer at a more curable stage, but large randomized controlled studies found that it was not effective in preventing death ...
