Fuzzy logic is a form of many-valued logic in which the truth values of variables may be any real number between 0 and 1. It is employed to handle the concept of partial truth, where the truth value may range between completely true and completely false. By contrast, in Boolean logic, the truth values of variables may only be the integer values 0 or 1. ...

The core of the ideal artificial pancreas system is the control algorithm that automatically modulates insulin delivery (and optionally other hormones) according to measured glucose levels (). Current state-of-the-art control algorithms for clinical use are based on either traditional linear control theory or crisp mathematical models of glucose-insulin dynamics.
